

MATT and NIKKI BROWN

missionaries to CAMBODIA

August 7, 2012

Dear Praying Friends:

New England was once an area of great spiritual revival and leadership in America. Sadly, it is now characterized by much spiritual apathy and coldness. All through the month of July, we have had the opportunity to observe the work of God, both past and present. A monument to the past work of the Lord we found at the site of the Haystack Prayer Meeting, credited with jump-starting the American mission movement in 1806. Present monuments are the faithful churches still upholding the gospel throughout this region.

July started with a bang at the Capitol Baptist Church Jubilee in Dover, Delaware. Great preaching, music, and soul-winning all marked this meeting. Both Nikki and I had the privilege to lead young people to the Lord during the week. Other than this meeting, July found us in Massachusetts, where we presented our ministry, preached, and sang in churches across the state.

We quickly learned that Massachusetts is home to several significant populations of Cambodian immigrants. Due to this fact, we had the pleasure of fellowshiping with several Cambodian brothers and sisters. Their testimonies - many of escaping from the "killing fields" - reminded us of the great need and encouraged us greatly. Millions of Cambodians still remain in the darkness and bondage of sin. Thanks for all you are doing to help us get over there - keep praying that God would add supporting churches and allow us a speedy trip to Cambodia!
